I have enclosed the terms and structure of three alternative tax-free financing plans which we are currently involved in. As you will note from the calculations, the effective rate after considering all front-end fees and letter of credit fees is quite competitive. In addition to the competitive rate, these plans are also easy to implement and provide greater flexibility than most other private and public offerings.

As we previously discussed, the balance compensation which is required under the terms of the revolving credit/term loan facility can easily be met by using Pittsburgh National Bank as your concentration and disbursement bank. Our expertise in cash management and the ability to offer you a controlled disbursing location will make PNB competitive with any other location in the Midwest.

I look forward to hearing from you relative to our proposal and to discuss the other services which we can provide Chi-Chi's.

Sincerely,

To Mr. Daniel Auriti, General Counsel
Mr. Robert J. Ramsey, Vice President, Finance

I have enclosed the terms and structure of three alternative tax-free financing plans which we are currently involved in. As you will note from the calculations, the effective rate after considering all front-end fees and letter of credit fees is quite competitive. In addition to the competitive rate, these plans are also easy to implement and provide greater flexibility than most other private and public offerings.

As we previously discussed, the balance compensation which is required under the terms of the revolving credit/term loan facility can easily be met by using Pittsburgh National Bank as your concentration and disbursement bank. Our expertise in cash management and the ability to offer you a controlled disbursing location will make PNB competitive with any other location in the Midwest.

I look forward to hearing from you relative to our proposal and to discuss the other services which we can provide Chi-Chi's.

Sincerely,
